Company Mission

YesVideo is dedicated to building convenient and affordable solutions for preserving, enjoying, organizing, sharing and reliving video and photo memories.

Company Overview

YesVideo's founder, Sai-Wai Fu, formed the company in 1999, when cassette tapes were still the most common format for video. Even though these tapes had been the ideal way to capture important memories, they were not the best way to watch and store them. Mr. Fu recognized that having your videos and photo prints transferred to DVD is a great way to better archive and organize your collection of memories and easier to share with email and on the web. Digital video was a luxury for those with technical expertise, expensive software, equipment and time. Believing that digital video should be accessible to everyone, YesVideo built the no-hassle YesDVD transfer service and partnered with leading retailers to make the service extremely convenient.

Today, YesVideo's YesDVD service can be ordered at several nationwide chains, including Walgreens, Ritz/Wolf Camera, CVS Pharmacy, Rite Aid, Costco and many others. YesVideo is based in Santa Clara, CA. with a new production facility in Norcross, GA. YesVideo has international operations in Canada, Japan, Netherlands, Australia, India, Portugal, Germany and Korea.
